After the death of Mr. Lincoln, instead of being content with the position the people had given him, he sought to become thereafter the Chief Executive of the nation. This he know could only be done by charging principles and creating a new party to sustain him, and after some little healtation he resolved upon that course and perpetrated a betrayal of the party that had elected him and the principles he professed, baser than the betrayal by Judes Iscarlot, who betrayed only a single individual, while Johnson specifical a whole nation and the heliest of principles.

Ittle hesitation he resolved upon that courses and preparetted a betrajal of the jarty that had been address to the Radiculas Missouri, in succeed him and the principles he professed, baser than the betrajal by Judia Iscarlot, who he trayed only a single individual, while Johnson recified a whole nution and the hollest of principles.

It stevers then discussed the article charging the President with usurping tegislative powers and proceeded to show how he had interfored with the work of reconstruction.
